We the department of management has conducted One-day workshop on "Transactional Analysis" for MBA students on 28.01.2017. The workshop started with the formal Inaugural function at 10.00a.m in MBA Seminar Hall. The function begun with Tamilthai Vazhlthu, followed by the presidential address given by Dr.S.Sudalaimuthu, Vice Chancellor, Karpagam Academy of Higher Education, key note address given by Dr.R.Sundararajan, Registrar, Karpagam Academy of Higher Education, followed by felicitation given by Dr. M .P. Palaniswamy, FASH Dean, Karpagam Academy of Higher Education, chief guest address given by Dr.A. Anand Gerald, Professor, Bishop Ambrose College and Vote of thanks given by Dr.Ashok Kumar, Professor & Head, Department of Management. The main objective of the Workshop on transactional analysis was to analyse the interactions between participants, TA also involves the identification of the ego states behind each and every transaction. In the morning session we had philosophical assumptions of transactional analysis and one activity about body language and expressions. In the afternoon session the resource person has conducted a game of Ulterior Transaction that leads to a predictable outcome. Ulterior transactions are complex interactions that involve more than two ego states and send a disguised message. Finally the session concluded with analysis of transaction.

Agenda of the Workshop:

1. Lecture: Philosophical Assumptions of Transaction Analysis
2. Activity: Body language and Expressions
3. Game: Ulterior Transaction
4. Activity: Analysis of Transaction

The result of a transactional analysis performed on a subject is a path for the therapeutic way in which their personal dispositions can be altered, essentially switching their self and ego, to relive bigger, emotional distresses. This workshop helps participants to understand the much-studied theories behind this analysis, involving analysis's like Berne and Freud, to arrive at methods to help clients discern and control their emotional states.

The session ended with a vote of thanks by Dr.A.Ashok Kumar, Head of the Department, Department of Management, Karpagam Academy of Higher Education, Echanari Post, Pollachi Main Road, Coimbatore. He was expressed gratitude to all for their contributions.
